PHILADELPHIA CHILDREN'S THEATRE

Presents

“Jack & the Beanstalk”

February 1, 2006, Philadelphia Children's Theatre (PCT) is proud to present the beloved classic fairy tale, “Jack & The Beanstalk” done completely in American Sign Language (ASL) and spoken English. Performances are held at our new performance venue 213 New Street, Phila., PA (OLD CITY, between 2nd & 3rd, Arch & Race). Box Office is located at: Ticket Philadelphia, Locust St., Phila PA 215-893-1999.

ABOUT “Jack & the Beanstalk” Told simultaneously in American Sign Language (ASL) and spoken English, this joyful journey celebrates diverse experiences, languages and theatrical styles. An original play based on the classic fairy tale, “Jack and the Beanstalk” is a fresh, exciting, magical story about Jack, a boy who is deaf, yet can understand the hearts and minds of those around him better than those in the hearing world. This tale is about Jack's exciting adventures with his family and (via the beanstalk!) giants in the sky.

About Philadelphia Children’s Theatre: Founded in 1998 by Marjorie Sokoloff and Gina Guglielmi, Philadelphia Children’s Theatre is a nonprofit theatre company that produces adaptations of classic children’s literature. Margie and Gina created PCT with the firm belief that children are an extremely discerning audience and therefore deserve a theatre company that produces intelligent and thought provoking stories that are worthy of it’s young people. PCT therefore employs professional artists and local actors of the highest quality and aims to provide theatre experiences that are alive, touching, engaging and enlightening. Since its inception, PCT has served over 25,000 children and their families in the Greater Philadelphia and South Jersey area. For more information regarding PCT, call (215) 451-7806 or visit our new dynamic web site at www.PCTheatre.org
